

Thanks for the memories
Sox fans!

For 12 seasons I gave you everything I had and you loved me for it. Now I'm leaving town and you'll probably still love me even though I'm joining a soulless team in a soulless place for more money than you could ever dream to make in your lifetime.

And to top it off, you're stuck with a back-stabber like Don Cooper. Oh, and three more years of Adam Dunn.

Better you than me I guess. Have fun winning 65 games a year for the next three seasons!

Hugs,

Mark Buehrle
